

HAYSEED TELLS HOW TO KILL THE TOWN

CORRESPONDENT SUBMITS AN EXCELLENT PLAN.

Don't Patronize Home Manufacturers, Because They May Have to Hire More Men and Pay More Salaries—Rents Too Might Advance—Other Dire Consequences.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—I wish to suggest a few "don'ts" to Janesville people: Don't patronize home manufacturers for if you do you will generally have to pay just as much as if the goods were shipped in.

Don't buy the Norcross or Marzluff make of shoes for if you do they will probably have to increase their working force from one hundred to one hundred and fifty hands.

Don't patronize J. B. Green's planing mill for if you do he will have to keep about twenty-five hands and wages might advance ten cents on account of all the practical men in that line being employed instead of half that number idle.

Whenever you have any machine work send it to Chicago or Milwaukee for they can do it there, and if you have it done at home, they would have to keep machinists to do the work.

Don't get your tailoring done at home, for it will not cost much to run down to Chicago; and it sounds so much better to say, "I bought this suit in Chicago."

If you persist in it, tailors will soon leave the city, and there will be so many more houses to rent, and rents will get cheaper.

Don't buy furniture that is manufactured at home, for it is so much better to get it shipped in, and they will not need to keep so many hands.

Don't buy your carpets, rugs, dress goods, clothing, books and stationery at home, for it will cost you nearly as much as if you go to some other town.

Don't buy a bicycle of your home dealer, for he might make four or five dollars on it.

But whatever you do don't buy your home mill's flour, for then the dealers would all sell the same grades and if you did and your mills would all run it would give employment to fifteen or twenty men and they having families to support, would have to have houses, groceries, boots, shoes, etc.

Don't buy any buggies or farm implements that are manufactured at home, for the imported article you know so much better, and besides the outside parties help to pay all expenses, such as taxes, etc.

Don't buy cotton goods or clothing from home producers, for it might encourage them some.

Don't buy your groceries at home, for you can get them by sending off and getting a large quantity a little cheaper than your grocer can sell for in one-fourth or one-half pound lots, and perhaps deliver them a mile from his place of business.

Don't buy your coal or wood of the dealers, for they will want fifty cents a ton profit, and if you consume three tons a year that will be $1.50. See?

Don't, don't, don't, get married at home and pay the preacher $5 or $10. You can go to an adjoining town for that amount and have it done.

Of course when you or any of the family are sick it is nice to have them come in and see you. Then if any of the family should die by all means have them come and preach a funeral sermon no matter how much you may have despised the christian religion when living.

Don't patronize the Y. M. C. A. for the influence might change your mode of living.

Don't give any encouragement to the Epworth League or Christian Endeavor.

Don't patronize your home newspapers for you can get a Chicago daily at the same price. You know they help so much to build up Janesville.

Don't do these things, for, you see, if you patronized home industries, it might give employment to five hundred more men in Janesville. There would not be many vacant houses or business places, and rent might get higher, and some one would be foolish enough to put up more buildings and that would call for carpenters, masons and materials of various kinds.

Don't do this, for if the people of Janesville would buy from home manufacturers first so far as possible, there would not be so many idle men, so many vacant houses. You would sell more goods and be happier. But if you want more vacant houses and idle men and less business you can have them by doing as I have suggested.

TICKLE your palate by smoking Sweet Moments cigarettes. They are the best.

Annual Meeting of the High School Graduates Held Last Night.

The Janesville High School Alumni Association held its annual meeting at the new High school last evening and officers were elected as follows: President—F. L. Clemons. Vice President—Mrs. O. H. Brand. Secretary—Miss Mary Davies. Treasurer—Mrs. F. S. Baines. President Clemons named committees to take charge of the coming reception and banquet as follows:

Arrangements—S. C. Burnham, Mrs. F. S. Baines, Miss Jennie Baker, Miss Sybil Nash and Mr. C. L. Fife. Decoration—Mrs. Walter Helms, Harry Ransom, Thurston T. Blakely and Miss Mae Henderson. Banquet—Mrs. John T. Wright, Mrs. J. H. Hall, Miss Nellie Gately and Francis Cuddeback.

Program—Miss Maude Nowlan, Mrs. T. S. Nolan, V. P. Richardson and Miss Emma Comstock. No date for the reception can be named until the time and character of the commencement exercises are announced; so the committee of arrangements was given the power to act. President Clemons suggested that a member be appointed from each class to write a brief history of the class, in order that a record of all graduates could be had. The suggestion was adopted. All members are also requested to pay their dues at once, in order that the committees may know what financial resources will be at their command.

The entertainment for the class of '96 will probably be much the same as those previously given. Mrs. T. S. Nolan presided over last night's meeting, Miss Zeining, the president, being in Milwaukee.

JANESVILLE TO GET NEW TOLL LINES

WISCONSIN TELEPHONE COMPANY PLAN IMPROVEMENTS

Bower City Will Have a New Outlet Through the Erection of Metallic Circuits in the Southern Part of the State—Cost Will Be Nearly $75,000.

The Wisconsin Telephone company will add to its metallic circuit system the line between Milwaukee and Oshkosh, Milwaukee and Appleton and Kaukauna and Green Bay. The existing metallic circuit lines in the south part of the state will also be extended between Whitewater, Watertown, Lake Geneva, Waupun, Mayville and Theresa and other important points giving improved service with the main office and over through lines. The cost of the improvements now in progress will be $75,000. These improvements will give Janesville much better service in communicating with the cities mentioned.

The southeastern part of the state has a very extensive network of telephone lines, and the service is very generally used for short distances because of its economy," said Manager McLeod. "To relieve the congestion of this local business, an additional metallic circuit will be extended between Watertown and Whitewater, thirty-two miles; another from Watertown to Madison, forty-five miles, and another from Watertown to Waupun, forty-five miles. An entirely new line is to be built between Juneau and Theresa, via Mayville, thence extended to Hartford and West Bend, in all fifty-two miles. The grounded circuit line between Waupun and Fond du Lac, twenty miles, will also be modernized. It is also expected this season to build an entirely new line between Lake Geneva and Racine, via Burlington, forty miles, which will give a new outlet to the business of Delavan, Janesville and Whitewater, hitherto carried to Milwaukee via Watertown, and so give relief and increased facilities to Watertown. A new line is contemplated between Green Bay and Seymour, through the Indian reservation, about twenty miles. The company expect to completely reconstruct the exchanges at Fond du Lac, Waukesha, Burlington and Delavan."

Only One Lowell in the City.

There is an impression among some people that part of the Lowell annex stock is still at the old store on River street. This is not a fact. Prices are lower—if anything, than were ever at the Old Annex. Remember there is only one Lowell and one store in the city for the lowest of prices.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

COOPER'S STRINGENT BEER BILL It Will Prevent Adulteration—Sayer Flooded In Debate.

Washington correspondence to the Milwaukee Sentinel says that the bill introduced by Congressman Cooper relating to adulterated beer is even more stringent than that at first proposed. It provides for the taxation and regulation of the manufacture, sale, importation and exportation of adulterated beer; defines pure beer to be the fermented product of barley malt, hops and water, and classes as adulterated beer that product made even of the foregoing articles, but with additions of rice, wheat, corn, grape sugar, etc. It fixes the tax upon manufacturers of adulterated beer at $3,500 a year in addition to the present tax upon manufacturers of beer; the wholesalers' tax is $1,000 additional, and the retailers' $250 additional. The fines for non-observance of the act range from $500 to $5,000 in various instances. The adulterated beer is to be specially branded, each keg to have the brand "Adulterated Beer" burned in, and each package is to be so labelled. A tax of $2 a barrel is placed upon the adulterated beer, in addition to the tax now imposed, and a special stamp in bright red color is to be placed upon each package. In every place where the adulterated beer is sold there shall be posted a sign in English and German "Adulterated Beer Sold Here." A provision is made for the chemists of the Internal Revenue department having access to the breweries and places where beer is sold for the purpose of testing the product, and the commissioner of internal revenue is directed to publish from time to time lists of firms manufacturing and selling adulterated beer. The bill has been sent to the committee on ways and means.

Cooper Matched Against Sayers.

During the lively and interesting debate in the house yesterday afternoon, in which the democratic members were seeking to make political capital out of the so-called "do-nothing policy" of the present congress, and reports made by the republicans that their attempts to do something to relieve the distress of the treasury on account of the failure of the democratic revenue laws to meet the needs of the government were blocked by the democratic and populist majority in the senate, an attack was made upon the River and Harbor bill by Sayers (dem.) of Texas. He charged that an item in the bill relating to the Monongahela river provided for a heavy tax upon the government and that the expenditure was ill-advised. Representative Cooper replied to the Texas statesman with a vigorous defense of the committee and a complete defense of the justice and wisdom of the policy of the committee. So good a case did Mr. Cooper make that Sayers replied that he meant no reflection upon the committee, and he practically admitted, notwithstanding the onslaught made in his first speech, that the proposed improvement and the policy of the committee was proper.

HERE'S THE STORY OF THE "WIFE." Plot of Play to Be Seen at the Myers Grand Tonight.

Much interest is manifested in tonight's engagement of the John Stapleton Company at the Myers Grand. This excellent company will be seen here in the great New York Lyceum Theatre success "The Wife," an American society comedy drama by David Belasco and the late Henry C. de Mille. The scenes are laid in Newport and Washington. Robert Gray, a lawyer, has in a moment of gratitude asked Lucille Ferrant, who has nursed him through a dangerous illness, to become his wife. He subsequently finds that his passion for her was transient and that he really loves Helen Truman. To prevent their union, Lucille reveals to Helen that she is the wife of Gray in everything but name. Stung with the injury inflicted on her friend, and believing it to be true, Helen discards Gray and gives her hand to John Rutheford, for whom she entertains respect, but nothing more. A series of complications follow. Matthew Culver who is a political opponent of Gray and friend and protégé of Rutheford's, joins with Lucille in circulating a groundless rumor that Gray and Helen are still attached to each other and that Helen's marriage was to gratify ambition only, that she was endeavoring to use her husband's influence, who is senator, in advancing her former lover's prospects. At the end of six months Rutheford learns that the woman's heart he thought was not only free but that she had never entertained a passion for another, has been engaged to Gray. The blow is a terrible one, but the husband bears it like a man and through the nobleness of his character, wins his wife afresh and vows to love, honor and protect her until death severs the tie.

DOE TO SETTLE OLD TROUBLE. Asks For An Appropriation to Straighten Out an Ancient Tangle.

Assistant Secretary of War Joseph B. Doe yesterday asked congress for an appropriation to pay for the cost of examining the title to certain lands involved in the purchase by the governments in the improvements of the Green Bay and Mississippi Canal company to the navigation of the Fox river, in this state. The history of this transaction extends back into territorial times and forms one of the most perplexing problems in the affairs of the Fox river country.

The value of the lands, of the water power and of the line of navigation has increased very considerably since the sale of the government was consummated, so that it has become imperative now to ascertain the exact boundary of the property owned by the United States, and to do this it will be necessary to examine the records of all land transactions, not only of the original board of public works under the state, but of both of the corporations that have since owned the property, and also in all the counties along the line of the improvements. It will be necessary to employ some good lawyer to superintend the work and a corps of assistants to do the clerical part of it.

Close-Mouthed. Jess—George asked me last night if the roses on your cheeks were genuine. Bess—And you said? Jess—Nothing—simply winked.— Puck.

A Misunderstanding.
Judge—Defendant, can you advance anything more toward your defense?
Defendant—No, your honor. I had only one dollar and I have already given that to my lawyer.—Das Echo.

THIN PEOPLE.

How the Weight May Be Increased in a Healthful Natural Manner.

All people who are thin are not necessarily so from disease, it is natural for some to be thin, and no amount of treatment would add an iota to their weight, but the great majority of people are thin because their digestion is not perfect, their stomachs do not thoroughly digest flesh-forming foods, they may not have chronic dyspepsia, but their digestion is not vigorous enough to assimilate the food necessary for robust health and to keep up their weight.

For all such, the new discovery for dyspepsia and digestion comes as a most welcome addition to the list of meritorious remedies. The new discovery referred to is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is not only a pleasant and certain cure for indigestion, but possesses the peculiar power of digesting flesh-forming foods, like meat, eggs and similar ordinary foods, so that the increase in weight is a perfectly natural process. One grain of the digestive principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of flesh-forming food. Dr. Jenkinson recently stated that he depends altogether upon these tablets for the cure of dyspepsia and stomach troubles, and that in every case a gratifying increase in weight was noticed, not fat, but the proper amount of flesh for health and symmetry. Dr. Harlandson speaks highly of the tablets, not only because they build up flesh and cure indigestion, but they are absolutely safe and harmless, no matter what the condition of the stomach and are excellent not only for the ordinary dyspeptic, but for invalids and children.

Stuart's Dyspeptic Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package and a trial will convince anyone of their merits.

EARLY CONVENTIONS.

There is every reason why county conventions this year should be early. No candidate can do good service for his party if he must work until ten days before election to insure his own nomination. This is presidential year, the national and state campaign will open early, and the assembly, senatorial and county ticket should be completed in time for every candidate to ride the county in the interest, not of himself, but of the whole ticket.

ARE THEY WORTH IT?

Are senators worth what they cost? They receive $5000 a piece for the work that they do, and there is no room for complaint about that; but in order to get the work done an expenditure of nearly as much more is made. The average cost of a representative is only $239 in excess of salary, and the people can not be made to believe that a senator needs or deserves $4883 in addition to his salary. To be sure, the position is one of great dignity and responsibility, but it is not one that justifies extravagance in the use of public money. The taxpayers have a right to protest when it takes almost as much to pay the incidental expenses of the senators as it takes to pay their salaries, and it is to be hoped that steps will be taken to bring about a proper reduction.

McKINLEY TO THE FORE.

Representative Grosvenor's desires doubtless make his estimates a little extravagant in some particulars, but it is very easy to see that McKinley is reasonably sure to receive the votes of at least half of the delegates already chosen. From almost the beginning he has had as many delegates as all the other aspirants put together. In the states yet to choose representatives to St. Louis the Ohio man is tolerably sure to get votes enough to enable him to maintain his lead. The probabilities at this time point to McKinley's nomination on the first or second ballot.

The workingman who gets two dollars a day, wants those dollars to buy as much as possible. He doesn't want to be paid fifty-cent dollars, as he would be under a free coinage law.

Democrats will be responsible if this session of congress is long drawn out. Republicans are anxious to do what business there is and go home.

MARK TWAIN AT SIDNEY.

His Impressions of Australia Upon Arriving Off Shore at Midnight.

"Do not forget my soulful eyes. Under the circumstances I shall be unable to twist a diamond of superb brilliance on my forefinger as I talk to you, but do not forget my soulful eyes and deeply intellectual expression." Thus spoke Mark Twain to a Melbourne Argus reporter, as he leaned over the side of the steamer Warrimoo after it had cast anchor in Watson's Bay at midnight and heaved slowly and sluggishly on the waters of Sydney harbor. These were the opening words of an interview carried on with him from the deck of the little launch that bobbed about below the wall-like side of the big steamer. "I am going to write a book on Australia," he added between the snorts of steam from the escape pipe. "And I think I ought to start now. You always know so much more of a country when you have not seen it than when you have. Besides, one does not get his mind strengthened by hard facts. The hardest facts for people who visit foreign places so as to write books are local liars. They come out and startle you with information you do not want and then asperse your memory ever afterward. No, it certainly does not pain me very much to write anything funny, for I try the public first and that takes a lot of the pain away." Then in answer to an inquiry about his literary quarrels with "Max O'Rell" he answered with a self-satisfied chuckle: "Yes, I know. Max was here and so you have heard about our little breeze. Well, he did all the talking and after I had answered him in his own style I let him alone. I am certainly not going to fight a duel with him, as I can disgrace myself much nearer home than by going out to have a row with a shabby Frenchman. The fact of the matter is, I think, Max wanted an advertisement and thought that the best way to get it was to draw me, but I am too old a soldier for that thing."

Then, having quietly interpolated his own advertisement, that his lectures would not be on set subjects, but old, personal reminiscences and experiences, Mr. Clemens, with a sigh, wound up by saying, "Really, I do not think I have much more to say. I did not see the sea serpent on my way across. But permit me to say that your harbor strikes me as being superb. I have not seen it yet, but I say that from what I have read about it. I suppose I ought to add a few words about the beautiful carvings on your postoffice, but really I do not care to throw away my good things on a bright night like this, so good night." And the interview ended.

Politics and Business.

The best men, the purest and strongest ought to be in politics, but not to make of it a business. The path of politics, as a business, is the most dangerous which one can walk.—Rev. J. S. Smith.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops.

Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually. Sold by druggists.

GIRL IS THE CAUSE OF A GORY BATTLE

EVANSVILLE MEN "FELL OUT AND FIT."

D. W. Johnson Hit Harry Benny Over the Eye With a Cane and Benny Jarred Johnson's Head With a Stone—Police Interference Stopped the Row.

When the affections of an Evansville girl are at stake and rivals meet under the new moon, blood flows.

And plentifully. Almost everybody in the "Out Off City" will corroborate this statement and further information can be secured from the surgeons and members of the constabulary.

Hot words, fists, stones and canes figured in the last engagement and D. W. Johnson and Harry Benny are now sore—both in body and in spirit.

Both men, the story goes, looked with favor upon a certain young lady, but regarded each other with an eye of green. Mr. Johnson is a newspaper man, while Mr. Benny is connected with the Grange hardware store. When they met on the King's highway at night, the skies turned black, and the stars staggered. Hot words surged heavenward, and when language ceased to afford satisfaction, muscles were called into action.

Slugged with a Cane.

When the men mixed there was blood on the pale moon. Johnson was carrying a cane, and when hostilities were declared, he smote Benny heavily therewith, cutting a deep gash over Benny's left eye. Benny had no weapon, but nature was kind, and the street commissioner had left a few stones on the road. Benny clutched a rock and poised it in his hand. Then he hurled it in Johnson's direction. His aim was good. The "donnick," as such a weapon is classified in the Five Point Dictionary and White Light Club Hand Book, struck Mr. Johnson, who was then in retreat, on the head.

And there's a confusion at that spot now, that throbs and beats.

But Johnson didn't stop. He went down town and met a friend, and they retraced their steps. When they reached the scene of the late unpleasantness, they found Benny still in possession. Johnson "shucked" his coat. Then hung he on a post, and stepped nimbly into the street. Indignations were, at this time, that someone would be slain, and people held their breath.

Hickory Uniform Awed Them.

But hostilities came to an end with a jerk. City Marshal Brink, he of the broad back and good right arm, appeared and promulgated the Brink doctrine, which sayeth that no warring powers shall be permitted to moisten the street of the village over which he stands guard, with blood, but disputes in which the peace of the populace was likely to be broken, must be arbitrated. The contestants looked upon the hickory uniform the marshal wore. It was of the standard Janesville brand and had a crook in the end of it. Fighting, with that piece of buggy stock in sight, was out of the question. But the marshal had no control over the tongues of men and inspired vocabularies were emptied out into the cool night air. Again the law interfered and the belligerents were compelled to go home to nurse their wounds.

Evansville has not had such a sensation in years, and the row was town talk. Whether such Fitzsimmonsesque warfare will tend to settle the matter of the young lady's affection, is not known, but the prediction is that a third party, one whose hands have not been moistened in blood, will stand the best show.

FOUR WEDDINGS OF JANESVILLE PEOPLE.

Jackman-Hanchett Nuptials Solemnized at 3 O'clock Before a Small Company of Relatives and Friends—Turnbaugh-Hankey—Wintermute-Burleson and Grove-Hanna Nuptials.

Simply and quietly the ceremony was performed this afternoon that united two of the most popular of Janesville's young people. The contracting parties were Frank H. Jackman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jackman and paying teller in the Rock County National bank, and Miss Etta B. Hanchett, daughter of Mrs. Anna S. Hanchett. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock in the parlors of Mrs. Hanchett's Milwaukee avenue home. None were present but relatives and one or two of the most intimate friends of the bride and groom. The bride and groom stood unattended beneath a bower of smilax, and the words of the ceremony were said by Rev. E. H. Pence.

Luncheon was served at the conclusion of the service and at 4:45 the young couple left for Milwaukee. They will be absent for a week and on their return will make their home with the bride's mother until the house which they are to occupy can be built.

Those present at the wedding from out of town were Judge and Mrs. J. B. Cassaday, C. A. Jackson and wife, Mrs. Ella C. Jacobs and son, and Mrs. N. O. Clark and daughter, of Madison; Mrs. E. D. Coe, Dwight B. Coe and F. W. Dockery, of Whitewater, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Jeffris of Jeffris, Wis., and Fred Hanchett of Marinette. Many beautiful presents told of the regard entertained for the happy couple both here and in other cities and betokened the good wishes of those not present.

Turnbaugh-Hankey.

A happy wedding was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Josephine Hankey, 252 Linn street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when J. W. Turnbaugh and Miss Josie Hankey were united in the bonds that know no dissolution. Mr. and Mrs. Turnbaugh will spend their honeymoon in Chicago, after which they will return to Janesville. The bride is a well known and popular young lady while the groom is the proprietor of the Myers House cigar store and an energetic and capable young man.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Sabin Halsey. Mr. and Turnbaugh will make their home with the bride's mother, and they start out in life with the sincere hope, on the part of their friends, that their earthly residence may be long, prosperous and happy.

Grove-Hanna.

J. Morgan Grove, of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Grove, of this city, will be married at Elgin, Ill. tomorrow afternoon, to Miss Eva L. Hanna, of that city. F. P. WHAT SORT OF ADS
DO WOMEN READ?

THEY WILL TELL FOR THEM-SELVES MAY I.

Lively Interest in the Ten Dollar Competition is Shown—Store News is the Best Kind of News to Hundreds of Readers—Who Get the Greenback.

What sort of an ad. has most influence on women?

Every advertiser in town wants to know and The Gazette competition will give him a chance.

Women are taking a lively interest in the prize offer.

Several are making from six to a dozen lists each, in this way giving themselves the benefit of every doubt when three or four ads. seem to be equally good.

The ads. that they choose as the most effective will be reproduced in miniature when the competition ends.

One thing about good ads—they are easy. Women are interested—deeply interested—in NEWS about dry goods, about shoes, about house furnishings, about groceries. She finds such news profitable reading, for every saving she makes leaves her with just that much more pin money.

Store news, properly reported and properly edited may be just as interesting as any other part of the paper.

If you haven't begun clipping the "best ads." see that you begin tonight. The ten dollar bill may go your way as well as anywhere else.
These are the conditions:

One display ad. is to be clipped from each issue of the Daily Gazette for April and marked with voter's name and the date of issue.

The bunch of advertisements—one from each issue in April—are to be mailed to the Gazette before 6 p. m. Saturday, May 2.

Voters may prepare more than one list if they chose.

The best ad. for each day will be determined by counting the ballots sent in at the end of the month. No ad. is to appear twice in one list.

The contest is to display ads—not reading notices or locals. Janesville ads only.

Size, the typographical beauty and verbal cleverness are not the essential qualities. The "best ad." under the terms of this contract, is the one that seems likely to draw the most business. No matter if the wording be clumsy and and the typography poor, the ad. that brings results, is the best ad. at the world over.

The ad. that makes a hundred people say
"That's a fine ad." is good, but the ad. that makes a dozen people buy, is better.

Read these conditions carefully, subscribers and non-subscribers, and get your scissors ready.

suitable for dress or business. These garments are as far removed —in character, style, and general effect, from ordinary ready-made clothes, as darkness is from daylight. That's easy to say and quite as easy to prove if you'll take the trouble to put us to the test.

You Can't Count

much on the kind of Sack Suits that some stores sell, but depend on it that the kind you buy of us are
